

The Azwars

Missionaries to the Czech Republic

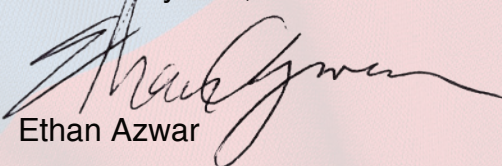

Fellow laborers in Christ,

We are overwhelmed. The love that has been shown by our church, the peace and confirmation of God's calling on our lives, as well as the monetary support that has already come in to pay for our survey trip, has all culminated to a point that can only be explained by God's providing hand.

As a young teenager, I never would have imagined everything that would entail submitting to the call to preach. As my wife and I have faithfully served on staff at Beth Haven for the past eight years, the Lord has grown us and given us a deep love for the people here, and I would've been content to continue ministering in Oklahoma indefinitely. However, over the past two months, God has worked on my heart about Prague. There was a struggle. I prayed that it would not be a logical or emotional decision; I wanted to hear from God. November 2nd, God gave an undeniable peace and a clear call for my family to go, so we're going. We will be starting deputation right at home with our church's missions conference to kick off the year, and hope to present the work to churches beginning in January.

The Lord has given us an immense responsibility and opportunity to continue in the work done by the Rettig family. Honestly, it is quite intimidating to step into such a ministry. However, I remind myself that it is God's work, not mine. If you have any questions, I would appreciate the opportunity to talk with you. I am thankful for your consideration to take us on for support
